

BID INITIATIVE

Better data. Better decisions. Better health.

SAVING LIVES THROUGH BETTER DATA

Strategies and Tactics from the BID Initiative

Q1 2016

Letter from the Director

Last quarter marked the end of the BID Initiative's third year! This year was centered on rolling out interventions in Arusha region Tanzania, preparing for rollout in Southern Province Zambia, and working with the BID Learning Network to continue ensuring BID's solutions are relevant for countries across sub-Saharan Africa.

As we celebrate our progress and share the lessons we learned along the way, we look forward to strengthening our partnerships with country leaders, global organizations, and members at all levels of the health system to ensure the solutions we implement are sustainable and can scale beyond our test sites.

Please take a moment to read our year three annual report in this special edition of the BID Initiative quarterly newsletter.

Sincerely,

Laurie Werner

Led by PATH and funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the BID Initiative is grounded in the belief that better data, plus better decisions, will lead to better health outcomes. Its vision is to empower countries to enhance immunization and overall health service delivery through improved data collection, quality, and use.
