SAVING LIVES THROUGH BETTER DATA

Strategies and Tactics from the BID Initiative

Q1 2015

From the Director

Last quarter marked the end of year two for the BID Initiative! We are fully staffed in both demonstration countries with intervention testing taking place in Zambia and implementation starting in Tanzania. Reflecting on our achievements leaves me proud and energized for what's to come. You can now explore our newly launched interactive map to track our progress facility-by-facility.

Please take a moment to read our year two annual report in this special edition of the BID Initiative quarterly newsletter.

Led by PATH and funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the Better Immunization Data (BID) Initiative is grounded in the belief that better data, plus better decisions, will lead to better health outcomes. Its vision is to empower countries to enhance immunization and overall health service delivery through improved data collection, quality, and use.
